Targeted and engaging student-centered learning

A look inside our resources...

Decodable Texts Teaching Plans

- Provides explicit and scaffolded opportunities for practicing decoding skills with engaging decodable texts in targeted small-group and intervention settings
- “Prior to”, “during”, and “after the read” components serve as easy-to-follow instructional roadmaps that enable more targeted teaching and learning opportunities
- Ability to choose teaching plans and decodables that emphasize specific skill practice and application opportunities for students who need more support
- Teacher’s Guides also include: instructional knowledge for teachers, a research-based scope and sequence, teacher preparation guides, annotated teaching plans to understand each plan component, customizable/blank teaching plans, and grade-specific assessments and appendices

Decodable Texts Classroom Libraries

Schoolwide offers curated collections of Grades K, 1, 2, and 3 decodable texts libraries, representing the best publishers and opportunities for skill-specific practice. The goal of these curated collections is to mirror the experience of reading real literature. The selected books include:

- Ample opportunities to practice new and previously learned phonics skills
- Language that is both literary and familiar to students’ speaking and/or listening vocabulary
- Engaging and visually appealing stories with diverse characters

*Many decodables in our collections, as well as decodables that align with our teaching plans, can be purchased through FAMIS. If you are interested in purchasing directly from Schoolwide or need support, please contact us.
